

Acknowledgments

This supplement issue of the American Journal of Preventive Medicine has been sponsored by the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities (NIMHD), part of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), an agency of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), under grant number U54MD000502. The opinions or views expressed in the supplement articles are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the official position or recommendations of NIH or HHS.

The guest editors of this supplement gratefully recognize the commitment and contributions of Kaitlyn J. Waugaman, MPH, RDN, LDN, who played an indispensable role in coordinating the effort of authors and guest editors to ensure the quality and timely production of the issue.

All articles published in a supplement to AJPM have undergone external peer review overseen by an AJPM Editor, who makes the final decision regarding publication of each article. Supplement articles are subject to the same stringent ethical and quality standards as original submissions to regular issues of AJPM.

AJPM Associate Editor Margaret B. Nolan, MD, MS, served as acting Editor-in-Chief for this supplement issue.
